

Ronmur, Inc. is a heavy equipment exporting company, small enough to give our clients personalized service, but large enough to provide fast and efficient service and in-depth equipment knowledge. We take great pride in our work and value each and every client. We have over 20 years of working experience related to construction, mining and hauling fields between Dominican Republic and the United States. Our rates are very competitive and our customer service is second to none.